

Employment branding made simple.

Jobvite Brand is a set of professional services that helps you expertly and seamlessly deliver a compelling employment brand across desktop, mobile, internal, and social platforms. With Jobvite Brand, you can:

♥ Convey an authentic message.

You know what kind of candidates you're looking for and what will speak to them. That's why we let you decide what you want to convey to candidates about your corporate culture using photos, videos, text, and more.

🔗 Cover your social channels.

We'll help you extend and sync your employment brand on Facebook and Glassdoor, so you can continue to target qualified prospects on the most useful job seeking networks.

📄 Hassle-free branded career sites.

Jobvite experts use your design and messaging to create your completely branded and fully functional desktop, mobile, and internal career sites—so you can focus on more strategic tasks. We also host your career sites, which means less stress for your team.

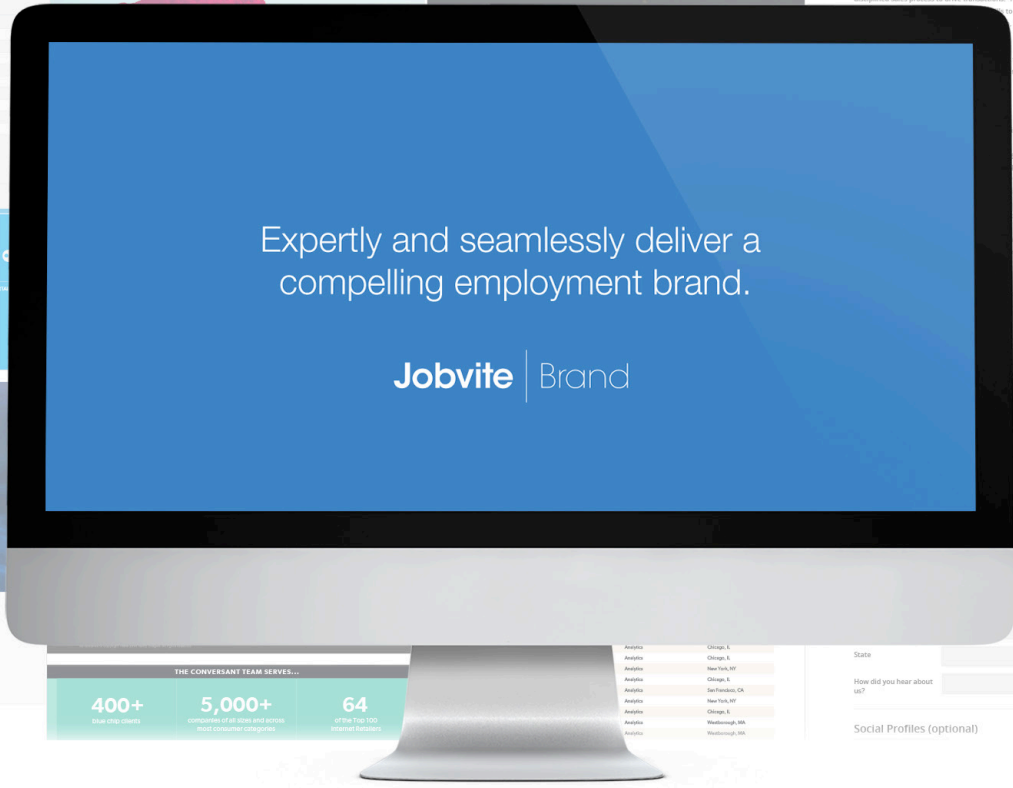

📱 Motivate candidates to apply.

When your brand and career site functionality carry from desktop to mobile and social sites, you can provide candidates with the ability to submit resumes and engage with you from any device.

Keep your brand fresh.

Jobvite Brand offers additional services to help you keep your recruiting strategy current, even when your messages shift. Enjoy monthly updates as part of our standard services, with additional hours available for purchase. We'll also help you redesign your career site annually.
