As competition heats up for hard-to-find skills across the tech industry—everything from precious engineering and development resources, to HTML5 and mobile apps, to management and leadership roles—you're no doubt getting a glimpse of the road ahead. Sure, business is growing. But your job as a recruiter becomes increasingly difficult with each new product or service added to the roster. You need a way to source faster and smarter, with a wider reach. You need to access international talent, tap social networks, and project the savvy vibe that's necessary to reel in today's technical prodigies.

Jobvite Engage takes an innovative approach to sourcing that enables you to cultivate a lasting talent pool, so you always have quality high-caliber prospects on hand and can shorten your time-to-hire. With Jobvite Engage, you can easily target, search for, manage, and communicate with skilled talent, whether they come from referrals, social networks, Web searches, or resume databases. Jobvite Engage provides intuitive, easy-to-use tools and applications that make sourcing seamless, automatic, and smart. As a result, you can capture the interest of the specialized candidates you need, and kiss the competition goodbye.

Highlights

Candidate relationship management.

Jobvite Engage is a sophisticated but easy-to-use system for managing candidate and prospect relationships. Much like a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system, Jobvite Engage lets you interact and communicate with prospects as you would with customers—so you can keep them interested in a competitive market, especially if they are navigating a layoff/re-hire cycle.

Centralized system.

Eliminate haphazard spreadsheets and other ineffective means of managing your prospects. Jobvite

Engage puts all your valuable talent information in one easily managed database, or talent pool. With Jobvite Engage, you can quickly import resumes, LinkedIn profiles, and other data to create searchable, filterable prospect records. You can then use Jobvite Engage to mine your talent pool for specific traits or skills as needed. Jobvite Engage tracks every interaction with a prospect, so you're always updated on current status. And, when you're ready to recruit someone for a specific opening, you can seamlessly convert prospects to candidates by integrating Jobvite Engage directly with your Applicant Tracking System.

Impactful communication campaigns.

Show candidates that your company is tech-savvy, dynamic, and worth their continued interest. With Jobvite Engage, you can craft and schedule insightful communication campaigns—using web pages, email, or social media platforms. Then track the success of these campaigns using detailed analytics dashboards and reporting features.

Jobvite Engage Features

Talent Search & Capture

Save time and get straight to the skilled and trained candidates you need with centralized web and resume database search technology.

- Search across the web for talent within Jobvite Engage, and easily add relevant profiles to the talent pool; support full Boolean search.
- Search hundreds of resume databases within Jobvite, and add prospects to the talent pool
- Schedule search agents to produce results for any time frame; score and rank results based on matching technology
- Enable any user in the system to email a resume to talent@jobvite.com and create a new prospect entry, which includes referral information

Import Tools

Quickly build your talent pool with collected profiles and resumes, so you can organize and engage with prospects immediately.

- Easily import up to 1,000 resumes at a time, using drag-and-drop functionality or web profile URLs. Automatically parse resumes and web profiles into prospect records.
- Use the CommunityBuilder App to import resume/profile information, contact information, and other details directly from any publicly available web page, and automatically create a prospect record
- Simultaneously include notes and tags, and add prospects to a campaign, whenever and however they are imported

Prospect Records and Management

Easily manage and navigate prospect resumes and other information from all sourcing activities.

- Customize prospect record fields to include all data relevant to your company's or agency's sourcing requirements and workflows.
- Access prospect information quickly and intuitively using an innovative tab-based interface that puts data right at your fingertips
- Tag prospects, keep activity logs and reminders, and have complete pipeline visibility and control
- Search records based on any included fields. Boolean search queries are supported. Results can be sorted and filtered by status, source and location.
