Don't Let Hiring Teams Slow You Down

One of the biggest challenges when hiring top talent is engaging the hiring manager—and the entire hiring team—in the recruiting process. They get busy with their day jobs, so they aren't interested in taking time out, logging into a desktop application, and approving reqs or providing interview feedback. For them, it feels like a speed bump and to you, it's a bottleneck that increases your time to hire. Plus, your impatient candidate may take another job while you're waiting for your hiring manager to get to their action item—and then you're at square one.

That's where the Jobvite Mobile Hiring Team app comes in. The app reduces friction and accelerates the hiring process by engaging all members of the hiring team on a mobile phone. Jobvite Hire and Jobvite Platform customers can utilize the Jobvite Mobile Hiring Team app to keep all hiring teams engaged and ready to collaborate at each step of the interview process.
