

It's Time To Start Engaging Candidates in Real-Time Conversations

Jobvite Text, powered by Canvas

Today's candidates would rather text than talk - already using their mobile phone to research and apply to jobs. Text messages are viewed as convenient, less disruptive and more personal. That's why text messages enjoy the highest read and response rates of all communication channels. Jobvite Text, powered by Canvas, gives recruiters a new innovative channel to connect with candidates in real time and engage in conversations that matter.

Connect with top talent faster

- Reach candidates where they are, on their terms, in real time where they are more likely to respond
- Start conversations with multiple candidates, all at once, with one-to-many text campaign capabilities

Gain competitive advantage

- Stand out from other employers by innovating with a new communication channel
- Source and move quality candidates through your recruiting funnel much faster for first mover advantage
- Provide a more human candidate experience

The recruiting process has to be quick, easy and painless for the candidate. I'm thrilled that our recruiters will be leveraging a highly integrated product from two of the leaders in the recruiting space to accelerate the process from screening to interviewing to hiring [with texting]."
